Endowment proceeds and investment income increased to $26.2 million in 2005 as compared to $16.2 million in 2004. A significant component of these amounts is investment income generated from the endowment principal. Total return from the endowment was approximately 11 percent, or $9.7 million, in 2005 as compared to a 14 percent return, or $10.6 million, in the prior year. The other major component in this category is yield from, or sales of, trust land, timber and mineral interests, the net proceeds of which are generally deposited to the land grant endowment trust fund. These sources generated revenue of $16.5 million in 2005 as compared to $5.6 million in 2004.

Statements of Cash Flows as direct lending receipts totaling approximately $57 million and $51 million in fiscal year 2005 and 2004, respectively.

Public service expenditures increased 19 percent in fiscal year 2005, primarily due to the receipt of several federal grants that benefit rural Alaska communities.

Institutional support expenses fluctuate due to the accounting method used to record employee benefits. The university employs a central benefits pool concept, and uses a staff benefit rate, to charge estimated employee benefits, such as pension and healthcare costs, to labor recorded in the various functional expense categories. Institutional support expenses are impacted when the amounts charged exceed, or are less than, actual benefits paid to third parties. Over recovery or under recovery of charges in one year are built in Salaries and employee benefits increased 9 percent, or $28.4 million, in fiscal year 2005. Employee benefits, such as pension plan contributions and health care costs, increased 23 percent and comprised $16.0 million of the change. Salaries and wages increased 5 percent, or $12.4 million.

Fiscal Year 2004 Comparisons (Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets)

For comparative purposes, significant comments about changes between 2003 and 2004 that were noted in fiscal year 2004 Management's Discussion and Analysis are summarized below:

The Statement of Revenues, Expenses and Changes in Net Assets reflected an overall increase in net assets of 8.7 percent, or $67.7 million, from 2003 to 2004. Significant factors affecting the fiscal year 2004 increase in net assets included $86.6 million revenue recognized from capital funding sources, such as state capital appropriations. Endowment proceeds and investment income also contributed positively to the increase in net assets by providing $16.2 million in 2004 as compared to $11.8 million in 2003. A significant component of these amounts was investment income, generated from the endowment principal. Total return from the endowment was approximately 14 percent, or $10.6 million, in 2004 as compared to a 1 percent return, or $0.9

originally issued for student housing in Anchorage. The advance refunding and note redemption result in an economic gain of approximately $971,000 and the total debt service payments over the next 20 years decrease by $1,366,000.

Bonds were issued in prior years to finance construction of student residences at three campuses, the West Ridge Research Building, student recreation centers, a research facility to house the International Arctic Research Center, the acquisition and renovation of several properties adjacent to or near the university's campuses, additions to the university's self-operated power, heat, water and telephone utility systems in Fairbanks, purchase of the University Center Building in Anchorage, and to refund previously issued general revenue bonds and other contractual obligations in order to realize debt service savings.

The university has traditionally utilized both tax exempt and non-tax exempt equipment lease financings to provide for its capital needs or to facilitate systematic renewals. contributions. See Note 12 of the financial statements for more information regarding pension plans.

Recently enacted state legislation will affect retirement benefits for new employees. The legislation requires all new eligible employees hired on or after July 1, 2006 to be participants in newly created defined contribution retirement plans. Under the new plans, public employees will contribute 8 percent of compensation and employers will contribute approximately 10 to 12 percent of compensation plus additional amounts (not all of which have yet been set) for certain medical insurance, disability and death benefits. As part of the legislation, the existing PERS and TRS boards will be eliminated and replaced with the Alaska Retirement Management (ARM) Board.

In June 2005, the Board of Regents created the New Optional Retirement Plan (NORP), a university-administered single employer defined contribution plan, for new participants hired on or after July 1, 2005. In fiscal year 2006, the NORP employer contribution rate is 12 percent as compared to 16.33 percent for the original ORP plan. The employee contribution rate remains the same as the original ORP. More information on this plan is available in Note 12 of the financial statements.

For fiscal year 2006, state appropriations for operations and debt service reimbursement total $249.6 million, a 7.2 percent increase over fiscal year 2005. The level of annual state appropriation funding is conditional upon the legislative process, which is directly influenced by current economic conditions and other factors. The university continues to seek additional revenues from sources other than state appropriations.

The University of Alaska (university) is a constitutionally created corporation of the State of Alaska which is authorized to hold title to real and personal property and to issue debt in its own name. The university is a component unit of the State of Alaska for purposes of financial reporting. As an instrumentality of the State of Alaska, the university is exempt from federal income tax under Internal Revenue Code Section 115, except for unrelated business activities as covered under Internal Revenue Code Sections 511 to 514.

The University of Alaska Foundation (foundation) is a legally separate, non profit component unit of the university. The foundation was established to solicit donations and to hold and manage such assets for the exclusive benefit of the university. Resources managed by the foundation and distributions made to the university are governed by the foundation's Board of Trustees. Commencing in fiscal year 2004, Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statement No. 39, Determining Whether Certain Organizations Are Component Units, required the university to include the foundation as part of its financial statements to better report resources benefiting the university. The university is not accountable for, nor has ownership of, the foundation's resources. The foundation's financial statements include the Statement of Financial Position and the Statement of Activities and these statements are presented in their original audited format according to Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) pronouncements.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting. All significant intra-university transactions have been eliminated. The university reports as a business type activity, as defined by GASB Statement No. 35. Business type activities are those that are financed in whole or in part by fees charged to external parties for goods or services.

The university has the option to apply all Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) pronouncements issued after November 30, 1989, unless FASB conflicts with GASB. The university has elected not to apply FASB pronouncements issued after the applicable date.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments, not held for long-term investment, with original maturities of three months or less are reported as cash and cash equivalents.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost (first-in, first-out method) or market.

Investments

Investments are stated at fair value. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such change could materially affect the amounts reported in the statement of net assets. Long-term investments include those restricted by outside parties as to withdrawal or use for other than current operations, or are designated for expenditure in the acquisition or construction of noncurrent assets or held with an intent not to be used for operations.

Capital Assets

Capital assets are stated at cost when purchased and at fair value when donated. Equipment with a unit value of less than $5,000 is not capitalized. Buildings, infrastructure, and other capitalizable assets with a unit value of less than $100,000 are not capitalized. In fiscal year 2004, the capitalizable threshold for equipment was $2,500 and $50,000 for buildings, infrastructure, and other capitalizable assets. Certain land and other resources acquired through land grants preserve and maintain the purchasing power of the endowment principal. The investable resources of the fund are invested in the consolidated endowment fund, a unitized investment fund. The annual spending allowance is currently based on five percent of a five-year moving average of the invested balance. Withdrawals of net earnings appreciation to meet the spending allowance are limited to the unexpended accumulated net earnings of the endowments.

Operating Activities

The university's policy for defining operating activities as reported on the statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets are those that generally result from exchange transactions such as payments received for providing services and payments made for services or goods received. Certain significant revenue streams relied upon for operations are recorded as non-operating revenues, as defined by GASB Statement No. 35, including state appropriations and investment earnings.

Tuition Allowances

Student tuition and fee revenues and certain other revenues from students are reported net of tuition allowances in the statement of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets. Tuition allowances are the difference between the stated charge for tuition and room and board provided by the university and the amount paid by the student and/or third parties making payments on the students' behalf.

Lapse of State Appropriations

Alaska Statutes provide that unexpended balances of one-year appropriations will lapse on June 30 of the fiscal year of the appropriation; however, university receipts in excess of expenditures may be expended by the university in the next fiscal year. University receipts include student fees, donations, sales, rentals, facilities and administrative cost recovery, auxiliary and restricted revenues. The unexpended balances of capital appropriations lapse upon completion of the project or upon determination that the funds are no longer necessary for the project.

2. Unrestricted Net Assets:

At June 30, unrestricted net assets included the following (in thousands):

committee and treasurer on a total return basis in accordance with an investment policy approved by the Board of Regents.

College savings program investments include the operating funds of the Education Trust of Alaska, established pursuant to state statute by the Board of Regents to facilitate administration of the state's Internal Revenue Code Section 529 College Savings Program. Program investments are in mutual funds of T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc., the program manager. See Note 5 for further information.

Certain funds held in trust for the benefit of the university are not included in the financial statements as

The consolidated endowment fund investment policy limits debt investments to 5 percent by issuer (except for mutual and pooled funds and U.S. government and agencies) for each specific managed portfolio within the consolidated endowment fund unless approved by the treasurer. The university does not have a policy regarding concentration of credit risk since it does not normally invest its operating and capital funds in individual debt investments.

Interest Rate Risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that changes in interest rates will adversely affect the fair value of an investment. The university uses the modified duration measurement to evaluate interest rate risk. Modified duration measures a debt investment's exposure to fair value changes arising from changing interest rates. For example, a modified duration of 2 means that for a rise in interest rates of 1 percent, the value of the security would decrease 2 percent. The university does not have a policy regarding interest rate risk. At June 30, 2005, the university had the following debt investments and corresponding modified duration ($ in thousands):

		Fair Value

Subsequent to year end, on July 25, 2005, Alaska's governor approved a transfer of approximately 250,000 acres of State of Alaska land to the university. The lands will be conveyed to the university over the next three years with the exception of one 70,000 acre forestry research parcel being transferred in 50 years. The intent of the Legislature is to provide the university with an equitable land grant as originally envisioned in the federal land grant of 1915 and to provide the university ownership of a significant portfolio of income producing land to help fund public higher education in the State of Alaska. Proceeds and royalties received from property development will be deposited into the land grant trust endowment fund. The lands will be recorded at zero basis as no determinable fair value is available at the time of transfer.

In the normal course of business, the university also has various other commitments and contingent liabilities which are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements.
